Two new 'Navigators' have been funded by the Council for six months to work as part of the Drug and Alcohol Wellbeing Service (DAWS) run by the charities Blenheim and Turning Point.

The two Navigators are specialist drug and alcohol workers who have been in post since December last year, to work specifically with the Grenfell community at locations convenient to them, including at The Curve Community Centre and Notting Hill Methodist Church.

So far they have helped 14 people that were directly affected by the Grenfell tragedy access drug and alcohol treatment. They complete an initial assessment and signpost people to the best service for them be that a detox, a rehab or counselling and support.

The Navigators also support people with their general health and wellbeing needs, including help looking after their mental health, support getting food and access to stopping smoking services. They coordinate with other professionals across the borough to provide help for people in these and other areas.

As part of the Navigator service, DAWS and charity Change, Grow, Live (also funded by the Council) also provide drug and alcohol awareness training for other health professionals working with individuals who have been affected in North Kensington. For example, those working in mental health and domestic violence.

Jane Palmer, Blenheim Senior Navigator, said:

“I have been working locally for seven years and love the community spirit and people. We are here to help you, even if you just want to ask a question or need information about something, call or pop in for a chat. We won’t judge you and will provide free and confidential support to whoever needs it.”

Jas, who has recently started accessing the local drug and alcohol service through the Navigators, said:

"From the minute I told the social worker I needed support it was there. The team were really responsive and my assessment was done at Notting Hill Methodist Church, just over the road from my house. Within a week I was in treatment and although it is early days I am doing better and really appreciate the support."

Navigators are here for anyone affected by the Grenfell tragedy, if you need support, advice or information about your or someone else’s drug or alcohol use.

Available each week at these locations:

- Mondays from 3.30pm to 7.30pm – Notting Hill Methodist Church, 240 Lancaster Road, London W11 4AH
- Wednesdays from 1pm to 5pm – The Curve Community Centre, 10 Bard Road, London W10 6TP

The Navigators are part of DAWS (Drug and Alcohol Wellbeing Service) which is open seven days a week at Acorn Hall, 1 East Row, W10 5AR. DAWS has supported over 1,800 people in Kensington and Chelsea since it began in 2016.

Resident discuss the future of Lancaster West with top architects

Earlier this month, over 150 residents from the Lancaster West Estate attended the latest Ideas Day event at Kensington Leisure Centre to discuss the refurbishment of the Estate. They met with top architects who had previously taken residents’ ideas and created initial plans for improving the Estate. The event, co-organised with the Lancaster West Residents’ Association, is part of the resident-led design process that’s aiming to involve everyone on the Estate in making decisions about the future of the Estate.

There were clear calls for urgent work including improving the Estate’s heating systems and increasing community safety by installing more CCTV and door entry systems. Plans for improving rubbish and recycling services around the Estate were also prioritised as an early project. Another call was for a local lettings policy to help residents move within the Estate. Many residents demanded a general improvement in the repair work taking place around the Estate. The Council is already working hard to speed up the repairs work and make it more convenient for residents.

The multi-million refurbishment of the Estate aims to create a model social housing estate. Every block on Lancaster West had individual plans made for it to improve both residents’ flats and to the common areas around the Estate. For more information, please visit: lancwestrefurb.com

Grenfell Support News
23 March 2018
Compensation period extended until 30 April 2018

The Council has agreed to extend the rent and service charge compensation period from 1 April 2018 to 30 April 2018 to residents who are living at home on The Walkways, Bramley House, Treadgold House and Verity Close.

We previously agreed to pay compensation to residents living on the Walkways, Bramley and Treadgold House, and Verity Close due to problems with services on the Estate since the Grenfell tragedy. The compensation was set at 50 per cent of rent and service charges to tenants, and 50 per cent of service charges to leaseholders living at home on the Walkways.

The compensation also paid 15 per cent of rent and service charges for tenants and 15 per cent of service charges for leaseholders living at home in Bramley House and Treadgold House and Verity Close.

We have made some good progress on services on the Estate. However we are aware there is still work that needs to be done. This includes opening up the rubbish chutes, which is due to be completed during April while a working door intercom system is expected to be up and running by the Summer.

Additional fire safety works are due to be completed by April/May 2018. The ongoing fire safety work so far includes the installation of fire curtains and fire doors. The bulk of this work has been completed. Fire Marshals are still on site, and overall site access has improved.

The wrapping of the Tower, which is managed by the independent site team, will be completed on 10 June 2018.

We have written to affected tenants and leaseholders with more information. If you require any more information, you can call 020 8206 7525.
